

Tracy Edwards Log Book

27th December 1989 - Day 4

We are doing course but we have been sitting in the middle of a high pressure region. This evening I heard from La Poste that they had 45 knots of wine. We copped it later; the wind kept on coming all through the night until it reached around 45 knots.

We had the third reef in because the second reef had broken. Michelle had to go to the end of the boom to fix it. The win is ahead which is frustrating but so are we which is brilliant! 2miles ahead of Schlüssel and L'Esprit and seven ahead of Rucanor.

